

New Voting Format

This year, people can choose their top two Write-In nominees for each category if they wish. These votes will determine nominees for the drop downs for the January voting.

During the January voting, voters can choose their top three for each category if they wish. Those will count as three “points” for 1st pick, two points for 2nd pick, and one point for third pick for January voting, and will determine the winners of the categories.